Master Lock® carry straps take the strain out of moving house

With peak house moving season just around the corner, the aches and pains of carrying big boxes and awkward furniture looms large. Well no more, thanks to Master Lock®'s innovative carry straps that make light work of heavy lifting.

Providing a comfortable grip and better leverage, the straps protect against injury caused by hauling heavy and unstable items. The smart straps easily adjust to fit virtually every object, while soft-foam rubber polymer handles stop them from cutting into your hands.

Apart from being an essential aide when moving house, the straps will take the strain when faced with other real life challenges, such as transporting parcels from the office to home, or carrying bottles and boxes back from the supermarket - especially if you want to avoid the 5p plastic bag tax.

Available in three different sizes, the expertly designed straps are also backed by over 100 years of Master Lock® history and heritage in safety and security solutions meaning it's a name you can trust to get the job done.
